Trailer/Teaser for promotion of the suit movie has been released to the general public and the official trailer was released on YouTube.

4. It has also been averred by the plaintiff that the suit movie is scheduled to be released on 30.09.2022.

5. The plaintiff asserts that it has Exploitation rights as plaintiff is the co-producer of the suit movie along with another entity. To buttress this, attention of this Commercial Division is drawn to certificate dated 26.09.2022 issued by 'Central Board of Film Certification' ('CBFC' for brevity) {plaint document No.2}.

6. I have heard Mr.A.M.Venkatakrishnan, learned counsel representing on behalf of M/s.PK Law Firm [Law Firm] for the plaintiff.

7. It is the specific submission of Mr.A.M.Venkatakrishnan that the list of websites set out in Schedule A (Schedule A to judges summons) consists of what according to plaintiff are non-compliant websites. To be noted, in Schedule-A, there is enumeration of as many as 13445 websites. It is submitted that these websites have no reporting and take down mechanism in place. It is further submitted that these websites are infringing the copyright of the plaintiff in the suit Movie.

8. Turning to the prayer in the instant application, defendants 1 to 35, who are respondents 1 to 35 in this application, I am informed are Internet Service Providers. I am also informed that technologically / technically, there is no possibility of blocking that part of the contents of the website which contains alleged pirated version of the suit Movie alone. This submission is taken on record. I have also been taken through the documents filed in support of plaint, which have been placed in the form of typed set. I am also informed that in similar matters, ex-parte interim orders have been granted by this Court. Reliance was also placed on the judgment of the Delhi High Court dated 27.07.2016 made in R.P.No.131/2016 in FAO (OS) 57/2015.

9. I have examined the aspects of the prima facie case, balance of convenience and irreparable legal injury incapable of compensation which are necessary parameters for grant of injunction in a case of this nature. With regard to prima facie case, there is no difficulty in accepting that the plaintiff has made out a prima facie case regarding co-ownership of Copyright in the suit movie in view of certificate dated 26.09.2022 issued by CBFC, which has been placed before me as plaint document No.2. In terms of balance of convenience, if this interim order is not granted now, it can result in alleged piracy being completed in all and every aspect of the matter. Thereafter, it will lead to an irreversible situation and therefore, irreparable legal injury incapable of compensation parameter has also been satisfied.

10. If notice is ordered in this application, it will entail delay and therefore, as mentioned supra, in the light of the fact that the suit movie is scheduled to be released today (30.09.2022) (theatrical release), viewed in the light of submissions of learned counsel for plaintiff that some pirated versions are already surfacing in the Internet, if the possible piracy is completed in all and every aspect of the matter, the very object of grant of this interim order can be defeated. In other words, I record this as reason for granting interim order before giving notice to respondents.
